Aid for Smith's Widow. Arrangements for the funeral of the unfortunate man have not yet been completed. Much sympathy has been expressed for his widow and little children. Tangible evidence of this has found expression in a movement to collect funds for the widow. Papers for that purpose will be left at the Alexandria Gazette office, The Herald bureau, corner of Prince and Royal streets, and at the stores of Mr. Ruben, A. S. Doniphan, R. L. Carne and R. E.
